Development Permit

Book a Pre-Application meeting with Planning Services. At this time the Planner will inform you if the proposed use is listed as a discretionary use in that zone.

For more information about the Discretionary Use approval, please see the Discretionary Use section.

Fill in the Development Permit Application form and provide all necessary drawings, plans or other information.

After a complete application has been received, the Planner will circulate the information to other relevant departments for their comment.

Upon receiving all necessary information from the applicant and other relevant departments, Planning staff will issue a decision.
