Yorkton Parks TECH TIP Mowing Your Lawn

Sharpen mower blades twice per season. Dull blades shred grass resulting in moisture loss and turning blade tips brown and dull. Most grass types prefer to be mowed high, so set your blade at one of the highest settings on your mower. Taller grass grows deeper roots, and deeper roots can reach moisture that's further down in the soil.

Did You know?

- Dandelions are not considered invasive by federal or provincial agencies. At worst they might be an annoyance, but they don't alter natural habitats, which is the trademark of a truly invasive species.
- A dandelion flower can contain up to 172 seeds, but the plant blooms repeatedly through summer, and each plant can produce as many as 5,000 seeds in a single year.
- The best defense against dandelions is a thick lawn that is properly cared for and well-fed. A thick lawn will be better able to choke the weeds and not allow them room to establish.
